Another Banner Year for the Survivors of Suicide Loss (SOSL) Sub-Committee!

Currently, the State Suicide Prevention Council (SPC) is in the midst of developing the next New Hampshire State Suicide Prevention Plan. Each sub-committee and many key stakeholders are putting together new goals and objectives for the next three years (2017-2020). The Survivors of Suicide Loss (SOSL) Sub-Committee is working to ensure that the voice of survivors of suicide loss is woven throughout the plan, helping to guide the SPC’s work and continue to strengthen the loss survivor network here in New Hampshire.

The word is spreading – more loss survivors and their families are recognizing that there is support for them. Capacity for support groups across the state continues to grow with more loss survivors accessing critical support than ever before.

The SOSL Sub-Committee is a dedicated team of loss survivors and stakeholders who volunteer and advocate for all loss survivors in NH. The past year has been a busy one with 1,932 volunteer hours completed by loss survivors who facilitated support groups, attended walks, hosted 11 American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) Survivor Day sites, shared their stories at events through the SurvivorVoices Speakers’ Bureau, worked on the Suicide Prevention Conference, served on sub-committees of the SPC, and volunteered at numerous loss survivor events.

Congratulations and Thank You for all that you do! So many people have and will continue to benefit from the great work that you do to help others!

Have you thought of volunteering to help make a difference? Would you like to advocate for loss survivors, help raise awareness for suicide prevention, share your voice and work with fellow loss survivors? Please contact Co-chairs Susan Morrison and Debbie Baird at www.sosl4nhspc@gmail.com, or call (603) 545-7267 for more information.

The New Hampshire Survivors of Suicide Loss (SOSL) Network is a coalition of people bereaved by suicide loss. They are joined by concerned mental health professionals and community members, who help to publicize local and national resources that provide support to Survivors of Suicide Loss. The network is focused on helping those bereaved by suicide with the profound, lingering grief that suicide leaves in its wake, and which those who have not experienced cannot fully understand. This newsletter was made possible through Team SOS, the Shaw Doherty Golf Tournament, 6th Annual Ryan Hicks Foundation Golf Tournament, Stephen Morgenstern Memorial Golf Tournament, New England Leather Fest, New Hampshire Department of Health and Human Services, and the many donors who have made contributions in memory of loved ones lost to suicide. The views, policies, and opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect those of our funders.

ACCEPTANCE
I know you are always with me –
You are never far away.
Although I understand why you left,
I still wish you would have stayed.
Some people say it was a selfish act,
But I have to disagree,
If you were here you’d be suffering,
And I’d rather your spirit be free.
I believe I would be the selfish one,
To want you here in pain.
Memories of you I’ll cherish,
And I won’t let you die in vain.
So when life becomes overwhelming,
And I don’t know what to do…
I’ll say a prayer,
And wait for you to see me through.
I’ve accepted it as your decision.
Myself I can no longer blame.
I know you wanted your pain to end,
And remember, I love you just the same.

Building Capacity for SOSL Support Groups!

One of the major objectives for the Survivors of Suicide Loss Sub-Committee for the SPC is to continue building capacity for SOSL support groups throughout New Hampshire. Since 2014, and with the help of NAMI New Hampshire, six new support groups have been established. Two of the newest are in Lancaster and Laconia – areas that have recently been successful in establishing this needed support!

Recent efforts to sustain and build capacity include monthly conference calls to support all group facilitators and a special refresher class to discuss and role play the concerns and challenges that arise within the diversity of each group. It’s very important that facilitators feel supported, practice their own self-care, and know help is available for them and their support groups.

Two NH Support Groups Celebrate Milestones This Year!

Hampstead’s Coping with a Loved One’s Suicide Group Celebrates 25 years!
Congratulations to the first SOSL Support Group in NH that has been meeting on a weekly basis for a quarter century! Originally founded through the Center for Life Management in Derry in 1991, the group moved to Hampstead over a decade ago. As one of the first support groups for survivors of suicide loss in NH, the group has helped over 100 families navigate the difficult path of grief due to suicide over the years. Currently facilitated by loss survivors, Dan and Roger Wells, the group meets every Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. at the Hampstead Public Library. Contact Dan Wells at dwells@sau81.org for more information.

Lebanon’s Upper Valley Survivors of Suicide Loss Support Group Marks 22 Years!
The Upper Valley Survivors of Suicide Loss Support Group (UVSOSL) serves western NH and eastern VT. Originally conceived when Gina Sonne, who worked at hospice and facilitated a bereavement support group recognized the great need, started a support group for survivors of suicide loss. Through the years, Gina, Sue Hagerman, Michael Whitman, and Maris Noble have facilitated at one time or another, never wavering in their commitment to support loss survivors through the pain of losing their loved one(s) to suicide. This dynamic support group has evolved over the many years, now having merged with West Central Behavioral Health, a move well-suited to the community and their loss survivor support network.

Current co-facilitators Michael Whitman (loss survivor) and Duff Munford (retired psychiatrist) meet the 2nd Thursday of the month from 6-7 p.m. at Dartmouth Hitchcock Medical Center. For more information email uvsosl@valley.net, or call (603) 448-0126, ext. 2180.

SOSL support groups give loss survivors strength to build a foundation for their “new normal”, helping each other heal, cope, and continue their search for hope in their healing journey. The stigma, guilt, and shame that can sometimes prevent loss survivors from moving forward can be greatly alleviated through one-on-one support and support groups. For this reason, building capacity for more SOSL support groups is more important than ever. Thank you goes to all SOSL groups in NH!

For more information and updates on SOSL support groups or interest in facilitating or starting a support group please contact Debbie Baird at dbaird@naminh.org.

First Teen Survivor of Suicide Loss Support Group in New Hampshire!

In early fall 2015, Erica Sherman, a senior at Bedford High School and a loss survivor, approached me at NAMI NH to work with her on her senior project. She wanted to raise awareness for suicide prevention with teens and to “Start the Conversation”: talking about suicide prevention and suicide loss. Erica’s end goal for this project was to start a Survivors of Suicide Loss Support Group for Teens.

When, at the age of 12, Erica lost her Dad, she didn’t have anyone other than her Mom to whom to turn for support. She wasn’t ashamed of what happened, but rather the opposite – she wanted to talk about her loss with others her age, who had also lost a loved one to suicide, but didn’t know how to go about doing so.

You Are Not Alone! A support group for Teen Survivors of Suicide Loss (Ages 14-18) was the first ever such group in NH. Erica recognized that it might take a few months for it to catch on, but her can do attitude would not allow her give up. On May 19, 2016, Erica was able to experience exactly what she had hoped for, to start the conversation amongst teens about the loved one(s) they have lost to suicide. It was a success!

Senior project completed, Erica graduated from Bedford High School. She is on her way to attend Washington University in Washington, D.C., where she will study in some capacity in the legal field. She continues her SOSL efforts – keeping the conversation on suicide prevention and suicide loss going in D.C., while still helping to find other facilitators to keep the “You Are Not Alone” group going here in NH.

Erica is an amazing young lady with tremendous potential and passion. As her mentor, I feel I’m the lucky one for having worked with her.
Sharing From the Heart!

Stories of suicide loss told from the heart are powerful. They promote healing for those who are newly bereaved, educate the public about how to support survivors of suicide loss, and increase awareness of suicide risk factors and warning signs.

Earlier this year, loss survivor speakers from the NAMI NH SurvivorVoices Speakers Bureau met for a refresher training. Together, they participated in a brainstorming session to help build confidence to speak and adapt their stories to different audiences.

Speakers quickly recognized through this session that attending each other’s speaking engagements would be wonderful moral support and further help build their confidence to share their story. Another portion of this class helped speakers hone their skills to advocate on important issues, such as mental illness and suicide prevention, and help adapt their stories for different audiences.

Those who attended left this refresher class feeling more confident about speaking in areas where they were not as comfortable before. All the participants were reminded of just how powerful and important their stories about their loved ones are.

This year alone, over 35 speaking engagements have been provided to diverse audiences at events that include suicide postvention trainings, walks, suicide prevention conference, business organizations, community centers, peer support groups, medical and mental health centers, visiting nurses associations, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) Survivor Day, and advocacy.

Law Enforcement Reaching Out To Survivors of Suicide Loss in NH!

In 2015, a Goffstown Police Officer and their Chaplain attended a Suicide Postvention Training so they could learn how to better serve their community and help others after a suicide death. A loss survivor speaker who also attended this training heard the compassion that these officers have for loss survivors. “It’s sometimes very difficult for us to conduct the investigation and [we] want to help families who are really suffering from this tragic loss,” stated the Officer.

Most law enforcement do understand the disbelief and shock that overwhelms loss survivors during this time, and agree that loss survivors deserve the best and most accurate answers they can give during the investigation – and that comfort and care should come with it. “We need to invest more in loss survivors,” agreed both the Officer and the Chaplain.

Out of this meeting, a workshop called “Both Sides of the Door” was created with both Goffstown police officers and a loss survivor presenting it at the 2015 Suicide Prevention Conference. The workshop highlights that most law enforcement officers do care and want to help – and it’s important that loss survivors in NH know this.

Like so many other members of law enforcement, the Laconia Police Department (LPD) understands and recognizes the importance of helping loss survivors following a suicide death and during the investigation. The LPD, along with several key stakeholders, developed a protocol for officers to use when responding to and investigating a suicide death. The protocol gives them a better understanding of the sensitivity of the situation, appropriate wording to use, and highlights that giving comfort and care to loss survivors includes providing the most accurate answers possible during an investigation.

The relationships and learning that led to the “Both Sides of the Door” workshop has evolved into a new session “We’ve Opened the Door” to be offered at the 2016 State of NH Suicide Prevention Conference. Part of the workshop will highlight the protocol and how it has now become a prototype that will be given to the new police officer recruits during their Suicide Postvention Trainings at the Police Standards and Training Council, as well as future distribution to law enforcement throughout NH.
